7. Useful Information Regarding Legislation and Best Practice

Mental Capacity Act 2005

The Mental Capacity Act 2005 (MCA) protects and empowers people and allows people to plan for the future. It applies to everyone involved in the care, treatment and support of people aged 16 and over, living in England and Wales who are unable to make all or some decisions for themselves.

The Mental Capacity Act 2005 has 5 key principles:

Principle 1: 'A person must be assumed to have capacity unless it is established that he lacks capacity.' (Section 1(2))

Principle 2: 'A person is not to be treated as unable to make a decision unless all practicable steps to help him to do so have been taken without success.' Section 1(3))

Principle 3: 'A person is not to be treated as unable to make a decision merely because he makes an unwise decision.' (Section 1(4))

Principle 4: 'An act done, or decision made, under this Act for or on behalf of a person who lacks capacity must be done, or made, in his best interests.' Section 1(5))

Principle 5: 'Before the act is done, or the decision is made, regard must be had to whether the purpose for which it is needed can be as effectively achieved in a way that is less restrictive of the person's rights and freedom of action.' (Section 1(6))

Whenever the term 'a person who lacks capacity' is used, it means:

A person is unable to make a particular decision or take a particular action for themselves at the time the decision or action needs to be taken.

A person is considered to lack capacity if they are unable to:

1. Understand information about the decision to be made (the Act calls this 'relevant information')
2. Retain that information in their mind
3. Use or weigh that information as part of the decision-making process, or
4. Communicate their decision (by talking, using sign language or any other means).

Consent

Under British Law nobody can give consent on behalf of another person unless they have been lawfully authorised. This authorisation is given in the form of a Lasting Power of Attorney for Health and Wellbeing and/or Lasting Power of Attorney for Finances (see LPA below for more details).

If a person is not able to consent and they have not appointed a Lasting Power of Attorney then a decision should be made in the persons best interest.

Best Interests

If someone is found to lack the capacity to make a decision the MCA states that a decision should be made in their best interest. To do this we will always consider “What they would always have wanted”. We will consult with family members and others who have previously known the person that lives with us e.g. GP, Social Worker, to help us make a decision

Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards (DOLS)

In certain cases, the restrictions placed up an individual who lacks capacity to consent to the arrangements of their care is considered a deprivation of liberty.

Where this appears to be the case we will apply to the local authority who will carry out an assessment of the care and treatment to decide if this is the case and if it is in the best interest of the individual concerned.

Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA)

A Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) is a legal document which allows you to appoint someone who you would like to make decisions on your behalf, should you become unable to do so in the future. It lets you choose a person (or people) you trust to act for you. This person is referred to as your attorney.

There are two different types of LPA: property and affairs LPA and health and welfare LPA. Each type covers different decisions and there are separate application forms for each. You can choose to make both types, or just one. You can have the same attorney for both, or you can have different attorneys.

Property and affairs LPA

A property and affairs LPA covers decisions about your finances and property. If there comes a time when you can't manage your finances anymore, the attorney will do this for you. This can include paying your bills, collecting your income and benefits, or selling your house. However, if you wish to, you can restrict their powers, or place conditions on what they can do. It can only be used once it has been registered at the Office of the Public Guardian (OPG). The OPG is responsible for the registration of LPAs. It can then be used even while you have mental capacity to deal with these things yourself.

Health and welfare LPA

A health and welfare LPA allows the attorney to make decisions on your behalf about your health and welfare, if there comes a time when you are unable to make these decisions for yourself. A health and welfare attorney could make decisions about where you live, for example, or day-to-day care including your diet and what you wear.

You can also give your health and welfare attorney the power to accept or refuse life-sustaining treatment on your behalf. You will be asked whether you wish to do this or not on the form, and you will need to state your intention clearly.

It's important to be aware of the effect this decision can have on any advance decision that you have previously made. If you allow your attorney to make these treatment decisions for you, this will overrule any previous advance decision. If you choose not to give your attorney this power, your advance decision will still stand.

A health and welfare LPA can only be used once the form is registered at the OPG and you are in a position where you don't have the mental capacity to make decisions about your own welfare.

Lasting Powers of Attorney are just one way to plan ahead. Other considerations could include making an advance decision about your future care.

Advance Decisions

An advance statement is a written statement that expresses a person's preferences, wishes, beliefs and values regarding their care. It is not legally binding.

The aim is to provide a guide for anyone who might have to make a decision in someone's best interests if they have lost the capacity to make a decision or communicate their decision.

An advance statement can cover any aspect of a person's future health or social care. This could include:

- Any spiritual beliefs they hold.
- Where they would like caring for e.g. at home, a hospice, nursing home or hospital.
- How they like to do things e.g. they prefer a bath to a shower, they like to sleep with a light on.

Other things you might think about are putting your finances in order and making a will, or updating any previous will.
